Aims

The aims of the Friends are to raise awareness of this very special museum and to raise funds to support it.

By joining the Friends you can help this remarkable museum to flourish and grow. As a group of volunteers, the Friends appreciate members' help with administration, fund-raising and special events.

A Friends' reception in the Museum

The Pitt Rivers Museum is part of the University of Oxford but is funded only as a teaching resource. It depends on the generosity of its visitors and supporters to improve its collections and services to the public.

The Friends support projects for which there is no funding, or for which top-up funds are needed. Over the years they have helped to purchase display cases, objects, and collections. PRM Friends gave £15,000 towards 'Light Fantastic', the Museum's lighting-improvement project, in 2013 and £15,000 towards the cost of a new display case for the Cook-voyage Collection in 2014. The Friends' Kenneth Kirkwood Memorial Fund provides bursaries to Museum staff for travel and research.
