

Sketchbook Introduction

Key Stage 3-5

National Curriculum area:

Art and Design

Length of session: 20 minutes

Maximum group size: 32

Session Outline

This introductory session helps students focus and maximize their time when doing art activities in a museum environment.

Students will learn about the history, present and future of the Pitt Rivers Collections with a focus on some key objects that connect to your chosen theme.

Alongside hints and tips, artist sketchbooks and key exercises are shown, to inspire new directions and connections.

Popular themes include: identity and representation, body art, masks, light and dark, pattern and texture. All sessions are tailored to meet the needs of the students, based on a discussion with the teacher before the visit.

Learning Outcomes

- Learn how to create a sketchbook using the objects in the Pitt Rivers collection
- Learn about objects and the techniques used to make them
- Learn to reflect on responses and annotate sketches and images
- Learn to make connections and develop new directions
- Opportunity to sketch from primary source material

Pre visit activities

Look at the Pitt Rivers website and find out about artist that have worked with the museum:
<https://www.prm.ox.ac.uk/files/artistpowerpoint2020resize.pdf>

Look at sketchbooks by famous artist to see what inspired them.

Think about resources to bring, no paint or chalk pastels onsite but you can bring coloured pens and pencils.

Post visit activities

Develop your sketches and photographs into a more complex piece expanding, enhancing or manipulating the images to create something new.

Find images of the objects you sketched on the Pitt Rivers website and use these to add detail, such as colour, texture or pattern.

Experiment with media, turning a sketch or photo into the design for a lino cut, decoupage collage, found object sculpture, digital image or animation.
